

Jim Davidson

Jim Davidson worked for over 30 years in the public sector, including for the federal government and the Victorian and South Australian state governments in the areas of education, employment, training and human services.

Jim also chairs the Photography Studies College's Higher Education Council.